PUBLIC ADVERTISEMENTS

OFFICE OF THE PUBLICITY OFFICER TO THE GOVERNMENT OF MYSORE, PUBLIC OFFICES, BANGALORE.

Dated 5th May 1949.

Press Note.

A conference, presided over by the Dewan of Mysore, was held at Carlton House, Bangalore, on the 4th May 1949 to discuss ways and means of developing technical education in the State. The Chief Minister, the Education Minister, the Vice-Chancellor and the Director of Public Instruction, the Director of Industries and Commerce, the Vice-Chairman, Mysore Iron and Steel Works, the Principals of the Engineering College and the Sri Krishnarajendra Technological Institute, the Superintendent, Occupational Institute, the Education Secretary, the Financial Secretary and the Development Secretary attended the meeting.

The Conference first considered the question of co-ordinating all efforts at promoting technical education and decided that as far as possible there should be no unnecessary duplication of effort, that is, duplication of instruction in various technical institutions, apart from a certain basic instruction which is inevitable in all such technical institutes. The Conference also emphasised the need for practical manual training in the various courses of study and the need for further applied training of students in industrial establishments before the Diploma is given. The Conference also examined how far a superior supervisory staff could be trained for work at one or more of these poly-technics. The Conference was of the opinion that a Board of Technical Education should be constituted to act in an advisory capacity. Its functions would generally be :—

(i) to review from time to time the courses of studies and practical instructions given in various technical institutes;
(ii) to suggest alterations or modifications in such instruction;
(iii) to propose courses of study and instruction in the new technical institutes that may be established;
(iv) to advise on the opening of new technical institutes at any centre in the State; and
(v) generally to advise on all matters connected with technical education through such institutes.

The appointment of a Director of Technical Education to supervise the working of the various institutes and to advise the Board and the Government on the co-ordination of the activities of these institutes was recommended by the Conference.

It was recognised that the need for giving technical or vocational education to women was urgent and the Conference was of the opinion that certain special subjects may be prescribed for women and suggested that the Vocational Institute for Women at Mysore may be reorganised so as to form a regular technical institute for women. It was also felt that special emphasis should be given in training women in industries which can be developed as cottage industries, with the minimum of disturbance to home life as such.

The need for establishing a proper school of arts and crafts for imparting instruction in fine arts was confirmed by the Conference. It was suggested that the Chamarajendra Technical Institute at Mysore may form the nucleus of such an institute. The Conference noted that it was under consideration to review the courses of study in middle and high schools with a view to giving an option to students to study agriculture and other allied occupational subjects and it was of the opinion that, when that scheme was finalised by Government, the views of the experts in technical education may be obtained in order to establish some kind of integration between the courses of study in such schools and those at technical institutes.

The Conference also recommended that when all the technical institutes are functioning, a Central Technical Examination Board will have to be formed. It also recommended that steps may be taken to get into consultation with private industries in the State and elsewhere which are in one form or another receiving Government patronage so that they may give practical training to students in the technical institutes at the appropriate stage.

Detailed examination and further scrutiny of all these recommendations will be made by experts and sma committees.

A committee consisting of Sri J. B. Mallaradhya (Convener Sri D. S. Venkanna, Sri J. P. Dass and Sri B. T. Kempani was formed to work out the details of these proposals an reportto the Government pointing out the financial impl cations of the same.
